

Farming Vets Aided by SAC Evening Division

Have you ever dreamed of having a little farm of your own someday? If you are a veteran, the Santa Ana College Evening Division can be of valuable assistance in fulfilling that dream.

The SAC Evening Division is now offering a Veteran's Agriculture Program designed to train and assist veterans in establishing a small farm of their own. The agricultural program offers instruction in citrus production, field and truck crops, poultry husbandry, and rabbit production.

Trainees may not be employed in other work while taking their training. Veterans receive subscriptions of from 65 dollars to 97 dollars per month determined by the number of dependents and whether they are working for themselves or someone else. In addition, the trainees receive books and expendable supplies while enrolled in the program.

J. Willard Whitesides, head of the agriculture program, reports that at the present time there are 30 trainees enrolled in the program. In addition to the five classes meeting twice a week on Mondays and Wednesdays from 7 p.m. until 10 p.m., the instructors visit each trainee each week to help him with any or all problems relating to his enterprise.

Brazilian Essay Contest Slated

The Brazilian Consulate at Los Angeles and the Los Angeles Daily News have announced an essay contest for students in any junior college, college or university in Arizona, Utah or Southern California, for the purpose of promoting Pan-Americanism and to stimulate interest in Brazil and its people.

Entrants in the contest will be asked to write an essay of from seven to ten thousand words on any aspect of Brazilian history, language, literature, political science, economics, fine arts, sociology, anthropology, philosophy, international relations, law, geography, or science.

Entries should be sent to the Brazilian Consulate, 6606 Sunset Blvd., Los Angeles 28, California, and must be postmarked no later than midnight of January 15, 1951.

First prize is a thirty-day all-expense paid tour of Brazil. Second and third prizes consist of a two-week all-expense paid trip to Rio de Janeiro and other cities in Brazil.

Gov't. Checks Due In Dec.

Direct government checks for family allowances will be received by wives and other dependents of men enlisted in the armed forces sometime in December, according to Ben Liebermann, Orange County Service Officer.

Since August the Federal Government has been making payments which have been sent to the servicemen instead of being directly given to his family. This procedure has been followed through the October payment, made in November.

Dependents of servicemen who do not receive their November allotments before the middle of December may consult the Orange County Service Office, 225 N. Broadway, Santa Ana, for the proper agency to notify. Any other problem growing out of service or veteran status may be brought to the office if assistance is desired.

WAA Prepares Plans For TB Christmas Seal Drive Tuesday

To acquaint students with what the T.B. seal sale represents is the main purpose of the Christmas Seal sale to be held next Tuesday from 9-2 p.m. in the Student Union and sponsored by the Women's Athletic Association of Santa Ana College.

This year the students of Santa Ana College have a chance to participate in the 1950 TB seal drive which is held in order to help eliminate a disease that is responsible for hundreds of deaths every year. Members of the WAA are donating their free time to maintain a Christmas seal booth, according to Betty Lancaster, committee chairman.

Out of every dollar donated to the worthy cause 79 cents of it stays in the local community while six cents goes into the national fund and one cent is donated to research. The rest of the money is distributed in the state and also for purposes of educational material and publicity.

Also 15 cents out of every dollar is given to the state for the sponsoring of free chest X-rays. It is hoped that all students will at least visit the booth, stated Miss Rellstab, advisor.

AWS Brings Cheer To Hospital Patients

Patients of the Orange county hospital will have a merry Christmas this year. SAC will help them celebrate on Christmas Eve, stated Miss Agness Todd Miller, today.

At a recent meeting of representatives of the Associated Women Students of the three county junior colleges, it was decided that this year the schools would entertain the patients at the hospital.

Orange Coast College will contribute tray favors to the project, Fullerton Junior College will assemble and wrap small gifts packages, and Santa Ana will provide Christmas carols.

TATTLERS MAKE FUTURE PLANS—Discussing future plans for Tavern Tattlers, Santa Ana College literary society, and reviewing past projects are club advisors Miss Lota Blythe (left) and Leonard C. Henard, (center). Also pictured in Nayan McNeil, club president. Over 350 Attend Creative Workshops; Hear Noted Authors and Illustrators

Over 350 faculty members, townspeople, and students attended the creative writing workshops held in conjunction with the annual Christmas book tea in the college library on Wednesday, Dec. 6, under the supervision of Miss Lota E. Blythe, creative writing instructor, Miss Ruth Bradley and Mrs. Florence Finley, librarians.

Experts in the fields of feature writing, fiction, light verse, cartooning, and writing for radio and television were present as main speakers and conductors of the panel discussions.

Editors, Publishers Speak

V. D. McGuffin, suburban editor of the Long Beach Press-Telegram, introduced Gerald Legard, noted magazine and newspaper feature writer now representing a New York publishing house, who spoke on the qualifications of a feature writer. His advice (1) Get a camera ("or have a shutterbug sucker for a friend") because the pictures often sell the story, and (2) become an expert on some field and then specialize in that field.

Also speaking and answering questions on the practical side of feature writing was Ronald Fairbairn, editor and publisher of the Orange Daily News. Student hosts and hostesses for the feature writing discussion were Nate Chroman, Jane Lindemuth, and Mrs. Margaret Sellon.

Light Verse Panel

Ethel Jacobsen, Betty Isler, Ruth Christianson, Marion Fickes, and Vesta Lukei shared main billing on the light verse panel. Their suggestion? Don't wait for an inspiration. Go to bed. Acting as student host and hostess for the light verse discussion were Merle Tibbetts and Diana Charlton.

Explaining the practical side of cartooning were Burr Shafer and Al Isler whose cartoons are almost an institution in the "Saturday Evening Post," "New Yorker," and the "Saturday Review of Literature." Student hosts for the cartooning workshop were Dean Gauthschy and Stan Mansfield.

Fiction Writers Introduced

Highlighting the fiction panel were talks by Allan Vaughn Elston, Karl Kasky, Mrs. Helen Shaw, and Dr. Austin Roberts.

Decker Compiles Alumni Register

Miss Dorothy Decker, SAC Alumni Association representative on the campus, has announced a need for the addresses of all alumni and former students, especially those in military service, for the Association mailing list and asks that all students cooperate in giving any information they might have.

IR CLUB SEES EUROPEAN FILM

By CARL SAWYER

Miss Marie Tee Kamp, horticultural importer of Laguna Beach, entertained the International Relations club last Tuesday with films taken on her trip to Europe prior to the German mobilization period. Sam Uyeda, sophomore, is IR club president.

Introduced by club advisor, Dr. Edwin T. Force, Miss Tee Kamp narrated as the films depicted the peasant customs and costumes of Holland, Germany, Austria, Italy, and Switzerland.

Pictures "Land of Tulips"

Being of Dutch extraction and having many relatives in the Netherlands, Miss Tee Kamp first visited the land of the tulips after sailing from New York City. Miss Tee Kamp pointed out that over one-sixth of the Netherlands is planted with tulips.

While visiting her relatives, she enjoyed viewing traveling dime stores (which are wagons pulled by dogs and horses) land which had been reclaimed from the sea, the colorful tulip fields, and picturesque government buildings of the Hague.

Road Signs Confusing

"The road signs were so confusing I spent five hours driving twenty-five miles while traveling in the Netherlands," stated Miss Tee Kamp, who made the trip alone in her automobile which had been shipped abroad from San Pedro.

After leaving the Netherlands, Miss Tee Kamp entered Germany which was then under the heel of Hitler's regime.

"The blazing swastika was much in evidence as I crossed the border," commented Miss Tee Kamp, "and there were many signs of the German youth movements, although beautiful old German castles dotted the countryside and the German farmers working in the fields were very friendly."

Comments On Italy

The black shirts of Mussolini's troops dotted the streets of every Italian village, according to Miss Tee Kamp. Even the great throngs at the Palio Festival, where she had taken some brightly colored films was not without Benito's policemen.

The Campbells Are Coming! What Clan! Argyle, Naturally

By JANE LINDEMUTH

The Campbells are here! And they are three. Do they belong to a clan? Sure! Which one? The Argyle clan, of course.

Evelyn and Marilyn Campbell are sophomores and twins (born only seventeen minutes apart) but they're not identical. Carolyn Campbell, the freshman, is one year younger (she's 18) and all are musical and pretty.

Music fairly bursts from the rooftop when all three get together. Evie plays the piano for a local dance studio after school hours and also is an artist on the saxophone and the organ.

"We're all nearsighted," Marilyn adds, "and it's rather embarrassing sometimes. Especially when we don't recognize our nearest friends."

NAN WEIR HEADS FOR EAST COAST AS COL. WEIR TRANSFERS THERE

By JANE LINDEMUTH

"Say, they aren't drafting girls around here, are they?"

"I didn't think so, but she's gone."

"Yeah. Funny. You know, she always used to smile and say, 'Hi' and 'What are you doing?' as though she were really interested in how I was getting along!"

Nan Weir (the girl with the wide smile and the trace of a Southern drawl) left the Santa Ana College campus this week for Quantico, Virginia, where her father, Colonel Kenneth Weir, has been transferred. Colonel Weir returned just before Thanksgiving from Korea where he was in command of an air base on the front lines.

"We've lived in almost every state in the U.S.," Nan said, "And never more than two years in any one place. In Santa Ana it's been just a year and a half. It's fun, though, in a way," Nan continued. "We meet so many new friends."

Col. Weir Back From Korea

This Thanksgiving was one of the happiest for the Weir family. "We have our Daddy back again," Nan explained. While Colonel Weir was in Korea, Nan and her mother stayed pretty much glued to the newspaper, television news, and the newsreels. One night while attending a motion picture show and watching news on the situation in Korea, Nan saw and heard a familiar face and voice. "That's my Daddy!" she cried, and, with her mother, she remained to see the newsreel again and again. "We went back the next day, but the film had been sent to another town so we sort of followed it on its rounds," Nan said.

During a meeting of the Sisterhood of Spinsters held at Nan's home (she is Spinsters' president) a neighbor ran in to say the television announcer bringing news from Korea had just announced Colonel Weir's name and said that he was in command of a front line base. The newsreel was to be shown again at 10 p. m. The Spinsters quickly ran home to their own television sets and Nan and her mother were again able to see the head man of the house. "That was before we knew that we would really be seeing him on Thanksgiving," Nan said.

Good Bye, Nan

"This is both a happy and a sad time for us," Nan said during the going away luncheon held in her honor by members of the Sisterhood of Spinsters. "We're heartbroken to be leaving all of the friends we've made here, but we're oh, so happy to have our Daddy back again. I'll be back in Santa Ana again, though, someday," and Nan said good-bye.

Santa Anans Seek Initial Cage Win Against Marines Tomorrow

Seeking their first victory of the season, the SAC basketball five will meet the El Toro Marines in their third scheduled tilt tomorrow night at El Toro.

Although suffering two defeats in two starts, the Dons have faced the two top hoop teams in Southern California. The Marines have played several games already this season and last week recorded a 61-51 victory over the Orange Coast Pirates.

The Dons so far this season have been paced by Pete Smith of Minnesota who has scored 37 points in the last two games. Last season the Dons had the conference's leading scorer in the form of Rolf Engen, now at UCLA, who broke the circuit's individual scoring record of 118 points. Already there is talk formulating that Smith will be another Engen.

So far this season Coach "Doc" Cure, cage mentor, has been using a starting five composed of Smith and Gil Luna at forwards, Joe Balsley and Wayne Elliott at guards and Bob Reid at center. Reid and Elliott are the only returning lettering on the initial five.

According to Coach Cure the Dons are in fair shape for so early in the season. Next week the Dons enter in the annual Chaffey Invitational Basketball Tournament at Ontario. SAC will face the Mt. San Antonio Mountaineers in the first round of play.

Trotters Capture State Wide Title

Sparked by Leonard Thornton, the Santa Ana College cross country squad captured their second consecutive California cross-country championship at the Cal Poly Invitational Meet last Saturday at San Luis Obispo.

The Dons easily took first place honors with the low score of 20 points followed by Modesto with 38 digits and Los Angeles captured third place with 52. The entire Don five man team that made the Cal Poly trek placed among the first ten finishers.

Thornton's winning time which is a college record was 16 min. 30 sec. for the 3½ mile grind.

SAC Pigskinners Dominate Berths On Circuit Team

For the second consecutive season the 1950 Santa Ana College grid players dominate the All-Eastern Conference football teams as selected by sports editors and writers of member cities.

Santa Ana placed six men on the first two teams while Mt. San Antonio and Chaffey each placed four players on the teams to tie for second place honors. On the first team SAC co-captains, Ray Willsey, quarterback, and Murray "Ace" Adler, tackle, were selected along with the Don's leading scorer George Brancato.

On the second team, the Dons also placed three players, end Chuck Sitton, center Matt McCalla, and fullback Fred Mirchoff. Sitton is the only freshman among the six SAC gridsters selected for honors.

Hoopsters Lose Two Consecutive Contests To Top Opponents

The SAC hoopsters opened their 1950-51 season last Friday night by suffering a 46-56 loss at the hands of an undefeated Glendale five.

In their second game of the season last Tuesday night, the Dons were felled 65-46 by a powerful Pasadena team. Even though the Santa Anans have dropped their two season openers you can not call the defeats discouraging as the teams the Dons have met are two of the Southland's best JC fives.

Downs Fullerton

Pasadena in an earlier season tilt downed the Fullerton Hornets by 20 points, 72-52, while Glendale on the otherhand rolled over Long Beach City College by 20 points. In the Glendale game the Dons were out in front throughout most of the first half and only in the final minutes of the second period did the Vaqueros catch the locals to lead at the half 22-18.

Last Minute Rally

Bucketing three consecutive baskets in the final minutes of play, Pete Smith led the Don's scoring with 18 points followed by center Bob Reid with 14 digits. In the Bulldog tilt the Dons did not show the class they did against Glendale and as a result trailed throughout the contest. Pasadena led at the half 29-20.

Smith again took the Don's high point honors with 19 points but Dick Arambel of Pasadena bucketed 22 points for the individual high scoring honors of the evening. The Dons only made 20 of 56 shots at the basket which clearly proves that the locals played a better game against Glendale.

Miss Rellstab, P.E. instructor, announced today.

HERE THERE AND EVERYWHERE

Slowly but surely the new track at Santa Ana College is rounding into shape. The project was to have been completed last month, but there is still a lot of work left to do on it. The cinders and lawn are yet to be put in.

According to Coach John Ward, track mentor, the oval should be completed way before track season gets underway. While we're on the subject of track. The 1951 SAC cinder squad promises to be another rough opponent to conquer again this season. Although the Dons lost a number of pacers by graduation, returning lettermen and new prospects promise to bolster Don's chances of defending their conference crown.

Will Return

Russ Ekstrom, star distance runner of last season, is currently attending a college in Oregon, but will enroll at SAC next semester in time enough for track season. Also planning to return this season is Dick Carson, speedy hurdler from Anaheim.

The Dons so far shape up to be loaded in all running events, but lack talent in field competition. Last season the locals could count on the versatile tracksters Brayton Norton, now at Occidental, and Kelly Hylton, ace javelin tosser who broke the school and national record, for numerous points in the field events.

Bowl Classic

When the two junior Rose Bowl teams take the turf tomorrow, the Dons will not be among them. Long Beach City College, will have a chance to gain national recognition if they can break the 39 game winning streak of Boise, Idaho. I do not think there will ever be a more thrilling junior Rose Bowl game than the one last season in which the Dons came within six points of upsetting Little Rock, Arkansas.
